Rafferty Says Board Soft on Sex Offenses

Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, has accused the state Board of Education of being "soft" on sex deviates and other actions involving teachers convicted of crimes.

The charge, latest in the growing rift between Rafferty and the state board, was made following last week's meeting of the trustees in Los Angeles. Rafferty said the board allowed known sex deviates and other teachers convicted of crimes to continue teaching.

IN MAKING his charges, Rafferty also supported similar accusations made last March in a newsletter of the Parents for Better Education group, a conservative organization.

He made the charges after a three-year record of the board's action in matters of credential revocations was presented to the trustees at their Los Angeles meeting June 13 and 14. Rafferty said the board was not giving enough attention to the need for protecting school children from teachers with sex offenses.

"Generally," said Rafferty, "in sex offense cases, the board is a little more willing than I to permit a teacher to return to the classroom." He also added that the board "is going against my recommendation" every time it overrules the recommendation of the credentials commission.

THE BOARD is inclined to give greater weight to possible rehabilitation, said Rafferty. "While I'm far more concerned with kids' interests."

William Norris, a member of the state board and an attorney, cautioned critics of the board's policies not to use a "box score." "It is absurd to say that there could be a formula. Each case must be decided individually."

Norris also said that reports accusing the board of being soft on sex offenders were "gross distortions" of State Department of Education compilations.

NATHANIEL COLLEY, another board member, said the credential hearings are operated in conformance with laws enacted by the Legislature. He continued, "Due process of law is always irksome to some people but the board feels that it should not revoke credentials just because somebody makes an accusation in an area where the state superintendent seems

All-Girl Camp Slated During YMCA Program

Mothers and daughters in the Torrance YMCA's Y-Indian Maiden program will hold their first "All YMCA" weekend campout this weekend.

The outing, exclusively female, will be held at a special campsite at O'Neil Park in Orange County. Even though the entire contingent — 150 strong—belongs to the YMCA, not one man will be allowed on the camp grounds.

Indian crafts, costumes, games and ceremonies, and a campfire will provide the fun during the two-day outing.

to feel an unusual degree of sensitivity."

Colley also said it would be more profitable for Rafferty to spend "more time developing better educational programs and less time in competition to see who can more often declare himself in favor of motherhood and opposed to sin."

Governor Brown has entered the squabble, and said he would attempt to arrange a meeting between Rafferty and Thomas Braden, president of the state board.

GOP to Set New Strategy

Torrance Republican Club president Russ Haynes this week announced the first of a series of "Let's Do More for '64" rallies and organizational meetings. The club will meet July 9 at Madrona Elementary School at 7:30 p.m.

Guest speaker for the first meeting will be attorney John Wren, who will speak on "What Does the Future Hold?" Wren was a co-chairman of the Torrance Nixon for Governor headquarters.

HAYNES, in announcing the new series of meetings, pointed to the recent victory of Del Clawson in the 23rd Congressional District, and told members that the GOP fortunes are on the upswing.

He also announced plans for an August meeting at the Recreation Center. George Tody, a nationally-known columnist, will speak on Aug. 13.

REFRESHMENTS will be served at both meetings, and the public is invited to attend. The GOP group's calendar of events will be mailed to anyone calling FA 8-8000.

Principal to Speak Sunday

The Rev. Lawrence J. Clark, principal of the Calvary Baptist elementary school, will preach at all Sunday services of the Calvary Baptist Church, 2818 Manhattan Beach Blvd.

The Rev. Mr. Clark will deliver a message "Are You Taking the Right Risks?" at the 8:30 and 11 a.m. dual worship services. His 7 p.m. service message will be "Dialogue With Youth."
